with Betty Allen...

The first civilian jeep in these parts made its appearance in Campbell the other day and very tricky it is, too, with a jaunty blige and red color job. It is being used by Fred Smith on his ranch on San Tomas road.

A great deal of favorable comment was caused by punster James Dent's "Today's Fairy Tale" which appeared in this column two weeks ago. Perhaps it will inspire him to further efforts.

It looks as though Santa Clara County residents will have to depend on the butcher shops for their Christmas fowls for the general hunting conditions in the county are reported poor with very few ducks and pheasants and the quail well scattered.

C. P. Klassen was unable to preside at a recent Kiwanis meeting due to a tonsilectomy and the Kiwanis club is one place where you should be able to defend yourself!

There was a large group of Campbell people among the full house Monday night at the San Jose Civic Auditorium enjoying the delightful Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. Spotted in the audience were the Misses Mary Price and Georgianna Newcombe, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shadle, Mrs. Dan Clark and son, Kent, and Col. and Mrs. H. B. Enderton, the colonel recently returned from Germany. Looking most attractive in their formal attire were Carol Lantz and Ruth Cousins, two of the San Jose State College ushers.

It is a sad commentary on the average person's interest in, and knowledge of, political leaders to know that a helpful Campbell Press friend, in an effort to find out the first name of one of California's senators, quizzed seven San Jose attorneys and a public accountant before getting the correct answer from the San Jose Chamber of Commerce.

Those of us who are addicted to a cable car ride up Nob Hill or Russian Hill when in "the city" will rejoice at the news that the city has bought seven new cable cars, and that, beginning Dec. 2, the cable car fleet will number 18 instead of the present 11. "Cablecaritis" is a disease from which many San Franciscans suffer as well as visitors and apparently it is highly contagious for the employees have proved as loyal to the cable cars as the passengers. In a recent seniority sign-up, only one cable car platform man elected another line—and one conductor from a trolley line asked for a cable car job.

Speaking of San Francisco, if you have $185 rattling around in your pocket, you can buy a copy of a special limited edition of the presentation made by San Francisco to the United Nations Organization, outlining the advantages of the Bay region as the site for the permanent home of the world body. The original, bound in covers of sheet aluminum, was prepared by a "task force" of local writers and experts at a cost of $18,500, and shipped to London as the city's bid to become the world's capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Mercer attended the Philco convention in San Francisco last Monday.

Chamber To Repair Signs

November's Chamber of Commerce meeting was devoted to several problems and projects facing the community, chief among which is the repairing of the electrical signs at both entrances to Campbell. These signs, turned off at the beginning of the war, have become damaged to such an extent that a considerable amount of repair work will be necessary before they can be operated. An estimate of $95 has been made for the job and Joseph V. Gomes, president of the group, appointed S. N. Hedegard as a committee of one to raise the money.

Because of the large number of business establishments now located near Campbell and Winchester road, the arrow on the sign at that location which points east on Campbell Ave. will be removed.

The matter of a deadline for business houses along Campbell Ave. to facilitate future street widening has been referred to the County Board of Supervisors along with the rezoning of Winchester Road 600 feet beyond Latimer, north of Campbell Ave. Both of these matters will require public hearings before action can be taken. There was some discussion of arranging for parking facilities behind the business establishments along Campbell Ave. instead of street widening, but the decision will rest with the County Board of Supervisors.

The matter of a public dump, suggested in the editorial column of this paper not long ago, was taken up by the Chamber and referred to the Board of Supervisors with the recommendation that supervision might be necessary for the dump to regulate dumping by other nearby communities.

Co-sponsors for the annual Old Settlers Day, Feb. 22, will be the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion. Three committee members will be appointed by each group to make arrangements for this historical event.

Plans are still under way for the public forum to be held by the Chamber on the subject of incorporation. The committee in charge of this, headed by J. M. Dahl, will present a qualified public speaker to present both views of the question and the public will be invited to partake in the discussion.

Stanford Lee On Destroyer

Stanford R. Lee, seaman first class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lee, Sunnyoaks Road, helped take the destroyer Wallace R. Lind through some of the toughest campaigns in the Pacific for her important role in the closing stages of the war with Japan, the Navy's records on the ship have disclosed.

Peace came slowly to crewmen of the Wallace L. Lind, as it did to Navy men serving on other ships in the forward areas at the time the first peace rumors were heard. Bluejackets of the Lind "sweated out" rumors for four days before hearing the voice of Admiral William F. Halsey over the intra-fleet radio hookup announcing the end of hostilities.

Before the memorable day, the men of the Lind had taken part in the campaigns at Luzon, Formosa, French Indo-China, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa.

The crew of the Lind was rewarded for its anxious moments while "sweating out" the peace rumors when, after the close of hostilities she sailed into Tokyo Bay for the surrender ceremonies, and the men aboard her had an opportunity to see Yokohama naval base and Yokohama, both blackened and twisted by bombs and fire.

Lee, who has been in the Navy four years, was employed at Cranes in San Jose before entering the service. His family expect him home in the near future.

American Legion Honors Memory Of Former Member

The American Legion meeting of Nov. 14 was dedicated to the memory of Virgil Smith, one of its valued members, whose funeral was held that afternoon. Mr. Smith was one of the charter members when the local post was established, and unselfishly devoted many hours in furthering the work of the organization. Particularly was he active in constructing and completing the honor roll which now stands on the high school grounds, a tribute to his untiring efforts. In honor to his memory the membership stood with bowed heads while "taps" were sounded.

Going into the business of the evening, it was reported that the highway signs announcing the post's meeting dates, are under construction. These will be placed at either entrance to Campbell Ave.

The post voted to form a squadron of "Sons of the Legion". To further this a committee was appointed with Ed Lee acting as chairman assisted by Bill Weeks and Paul Wehmüt. About a dozen youngsters from this area now belong to Memory Post's Sons of the Legion in San Jose. These will be a nucleus of the local organization.

Gus Robillard was appointed to head the honor roll committee to keep new names posted and the entire unit in condition.

At the close of the business session the members of the post joined the ladies of the auxiliary in the celebration of their first birthday.

Walsh Heads Seal Sale

Martin S. Walsh, Campbell representative of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, announces that the California Tuberculosis and Health Association, a federation of 61 local associations, is endeavoring to surpass its successes of the past two years.

This association had the largest seal sale of any similar organization in the United States during 1943 and 1944, being first in the record breaking sale of $1,248,000. The national goal set for the drive is $15,500,000. The State association has not set a goal, but is doing everything to surpass its already splendid record.

In order to enlarge and improve their restaurant at 82 S. 2nd St., Mr. and Mrs. Add Hall, owners and operators of the Tennessee Inn, are having several alterations made. They will include tearing out the arch between the two dining rooms and the wall between them and the apartment formerly occupied by the Halls, making two large dining rooms. The porch will be glassed in to make a reception room.

Beginning Sunday, Dec. 9, the Congregational church will maintain a nursery school during the church hour. Parents may leave small children there while attending the service. Two high school girls will supervise the children and entertainment in the form of games, books, crayons and other toys will be provided.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lee, Sunnyoaks Ave., had as their guests for Thanksgiving Mrs. Lee's brother, Frank Caples of Eugene, Ore.; her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deahl of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hook of San Francisco; and Dr. and Mrs. W. Taylor and family of Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard will leave tomorrow to spend a few days in Modesto. Their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Hedegard, will accompany them and then attend a pure-bred Holstein sale in Visalia.

Buc Varsity In Final Game

By WALTER HILL

The Campbell Hi football team will wind up its season this Friday afternoon when the Gilroy Mustangs invade the local field.

A win for the Bucs will give them a second place in the final standings—a very enviable position.

While the Mustangs have failed to win a game this season, they have shown much improvement as the season has progressed. Fremont Hi barely beat them, 6-0, and they were able to score 14 points against Washington Hi. A Gilroy upset is highly possible.

Playing their last game for Campbell Friday will be the following seniors: game captain, Ralph McKee, Al Miller, Bill Hill, Mac Martin, Merv Nelson, Dewey Kosich, Orville Gunsauls, Dick Cotta, Tom Garske, Dick Orlandi, Larry Lewis, Jerry Finch, and Bill Underwood.

With the exceptions of Reg Gazay, Lowell Grattan, and Dick Gouley, who are still out with injuries, the Bucs should be at full strength for this game. Underwood and McKee missed the last two games with some painful bruises.

The starting team will probably consist of Kosich and Levi Estrada, ends; Miller and Orlandi, tackles; Hill and Martin, guards; McKee, center; Gunsauls and Cotta, halves; Underwood, fullback; and Wayne Buck, quarter.

Country Woman's Club To Have Tea

The Country Woman's Club of Campbell will hold its annual Christmas party and tea on Monday afternoon, Dec. 3, at 2:30 p. m. Featured on the program will be the High School A Capella choir under the direction of Frank Triana, who will present a program of Christmas music.

The committee for the afternoon includes Mrs. Arthur W. Wellington, chairman; and Mesdames Jack E. Murdock, Calvin B. Bohnett, Charles E. Brandenburg, Hans E. Hansen, Martin S. Walsh, Wm. H. Scott and Miss Winnie Grizzle.

Board of directors meeting is called for 1:45 p. m. with regular business meeting following at 2:30 p. m.

Campbell Has New Doctor

Newly arrived in Campbell to make their home are Dr. and Mrs. Gabe Long, formerly of Rochester, Minn., where Dr. Long was associated with the Mayo Clinic, specializing in surgery.

A graduate of the University of Illinois Medical College of Chicago, Dr. Long practiced in Indianapolis, Ind., for several years before joining the staff of the Mayo Clinic. He will practice in Campbell, with offices in the Curry building.

Dr. and Mrs. Long have purchased a home at 240 W. Campbell and will soon be settled in it. They have two children, Martha Jane, who will attend kindergarten at the Campbell Elementary school, and Bill, 11 months.

Commander Frank Anderson, recently discharged from the Navy and formerly a Campbell and San Jose physician, is reported to have started practicing in Los Angeles.

Herbert Hudson, former physical education instructor at the high school, now in Bremerton, is expected back at his old post next semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hirschler, Kennedy Ave., returned last week from a visit in San Miguel with Mr. Hirschler's father who was ill.

50 Percent Quota Bought; Show Wednesday

With less than two weeks remaining for the close of the Victory Loan campaign, Guy Farley, Campbell chairman, reports that 50% of Campbell $55,400 E bond quota has been reached. He says, "We must all pitch in and finish this drive with our full quota."

"Northern California must do its share toward meeting the government's call for financial help to pay for equipment used in the last stages of the war, to bring the armed forces back home, and to care for the wounded. We must do our part and, above all, we must make the quota set for us by Washington."

All those who purchase bonds on or before next Wednesday, Dec. 5, are eligible to attend the bond premiere at the Campbell Theater which will feature Fred MacMurray in "Captain Eddie", the life story of Eddie Rickenbacker.

The inspiring life story of this almost legendary figure has been made into an entertaining and diverting movie. One of the refreshing approaches is the constant eye which has been maintained on comedy values. They are never permitted to interfere with the unfolding of the drama so that the opportunity to incorporate laughs into the legitimate fabric of the story has been employed to proper advantage. They show up chiefly in the romance between Rickenbacker and the girl he finally marries. The period in which the early passages of the film fall, lends itself to such treatment—one-lung automobiles, nosegay customs, early vintage aeroplanes.

Shadle Thanks Workers

Herbert M. Shadle, chairman of the War Chest campaign, who put Campbell over the top, wishes to thank all his co-workers who gave generously of their time and effort, the Campbell citizens who contributed, The Campbell Press, and all who helped to make the drive a success. He stressed the fact that it is not he, alone, who is thanking these people, but all those who benefit by the purpose of the War Chest.

The picture, "Sand Dunes" donated by Artist Frank Cutting to the War Chest campaign, is still on display at the Golden Rule Store and it is not too late to bid on this oil painting, the money to be given the War Chest.

A large group of Campbell and Santa Clara Valley people attended the tea yesterday which marked the fifth anniversary of the What Not, the gift shop across the street from the Campbell Elementary school.

The decorations were in the holiday mood with wreaths and swags on the door, in the windows and over the fireplace. Focal point of the room was a Christmas tree on the center table decorated with silver bells and cellophane bows. Large candles burned about the rooms and the tea table bore Christmas greens. Two boxes of "grab bags" furnished surprises for the guests.

This birthday celebration has been a yearly event with The What Not every year since its beginning with the exception of the anniversary which preceded Pearl Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Booth of Portland, Ore., are in Campbell for an extended visit with Mrs. Booth's father, W. R. Coupland.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Flores, Latimer Ave., are the parents of a daughter, Joanne, born Nov. 11 at O'Connor Sanitarium.

Carl Field is recuperating from a severe bout of flu and hopes to be back at work soon.

Anderson Supports New Postoffice

The Campbell Chamber of Commerce has received an encouraging letter from Congressman Jack Anderson regarding the new postoffice for Campbell. He says: "... with respect to the erection of a new postoffice, I can assure you that I am in hearty accord with this resolution and I shall give my full support to the successful consideration of this building."

"As you undoubtedly know, Campbell has been scheduled for a new $85,000 postoffice building and this provision is contained in a bill which is now pending in the House committee on public buildings and grounds."

"I am working in close cooperation with Congressman Elliott, the only California member of this committee, and have been assured of his hearty support in securing the approval of every one of the new postoffices scheduled for the 8th Congressional District."

Martin S. Walsh, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, also reports that both Senators Sheridan Downey and William F. Knowland have expressed themselves as being in favor of the new postoffice.

Golden Served On "Sierra"

John Robert Golden, machinist's mate, second class, 24 Carlyn St., served aboard the USS Sierra, one of the Navy's famed "floating Navy Yards", which has received a commendation from the commander of destroyers, Pacific Fleet, for her crew's feat of performing 21,392 man-hours of work on 65 ships in one nine-day period.

At another time, during a five-week period at Port Purvis in the Solomon Islands, the crew of the Sierra helped the ship distinguish herself by substituting divers for drydock facilities to complete repairs on worn and damaged underwater equipment. During that period, she also provided tender service for a fleet of LST's destined to carry troops and supplies to Iwo Jima.

Although the Sierra is designated as a destroyer tender, she repaired all units of the fleet, from landing craft to battleships, during more than a year's service in combat waters.

The Clay M. Greene Players of the University of Santa Clara will present the comedy, "Room Service," tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 at the University Theater.

The three Hi-Y clubs at the school will meet together for their annual dinner at the Tennessee Inn, Dec. 4.

Mrs. John Perata is reported convalescing from a severe attack of flu.

Free Ads For Veterans

Joining a nation wide group of weekly newspapers in an effort to be of assistance to veterans, The Campbell Press will print free of charge any classified ads desired by Campbell veterans.

The movement is designed to help job-seeking ex-service people and local employers get together. John H. Perry, president of Western Newspaper Union, says, "The chief thing that is needed in this reconversion period is to let the man without a job know where there is a job which he can fill, and that someone wants him to fill it."

All Campbell servicemen or service women are welcome to use the classified column of The Press in stating their qualifications and preferences for jobs.

There is food for thought in the figures dealing with the allocation of state funds to county use. For example, one of these sums is derived from alcoholic beverage license fees, and early in November distribution of $2,079,978.97 from this source was made to California cities and towns. Santa Clara County's share of this was $47,142.38. Within the county this was allocated as follows:

Alviso, $500; Gilroy, $2,716.88; Los Gatos, $1,150; Morgan Hill, $381.88; Mountain View, $858.75; Palo Alto, $175;
San Jose, $21,441.25; Santa Clara, $1,837.50; Sunnyvale, $1,140.

The balance of the fund, $16,941.12 was marked for the unincorporated areas?

This does not mean however that the sum was distributed among Campbell, Saratoga, Los Altos and other unincorporated towns. It goes into a general fund from which is drawn funds for the maintenance of the unincorporated towns but which also goes to the support of county institutions for the indigent, the feeble-minded, the insane and other necessary county needs. Thus we see, that in the instance of this one source of revenue among many like sources, the balance designated for unincorporated areas serves both the unincorporated and the incorporated.

Campbell and needs no introduction on this page. He taught mathematics for many years in both the Los Gatos and Campbell High hobby of geology. Mr. Cutting has a well deserved reputation as Campbell's unofficial but authentic historian.

Next week's guest writer will be Guy Farley, leader of the Camp-

Guest Editorial

HALF A CENTURY

By T. A. CUTTING

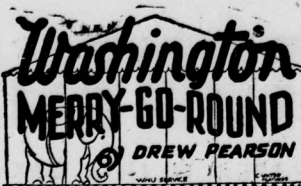

I have been reading the Campbell Visitor and Press since its first issue in 1895, and wish heartily to congratulate you upon the year of your 50th anniversary. There is no other history of Campbell so complete as has been written in your pages, for there have been articles upon the early beginnings of the town as well as the week-by-week record.

Journalism in Campbell originated with the Blaines, always an idealistic stock. According to a paper by S. G.
Rodeck, kindly loaned to me by Judge Blaine, "The first paper was issued in Campbell by J. Blaine, Sr., called the 'BUILDER UP' in 1890. The 'CAMPBELL VISITOR' was soon after printed by Frank Blaine and E. C. Hurlbert".
Thus the origins of the PRESS really date back 55 years, with a continuous record for the past half century.

Its first print shop on Central Avenue was equipped only with hand set type and a single page hand press. After Frank Blaine's death near the close of the century, publication was continued by E. C. Hurlbert, who used to include along with his news items, occasional verse by local poets and reports of the weekly sermons of Dr. Wm. Windsor. For a short time Dicks then published the paper.

Harry Smith purchased it in 1912, and set up in the Sutter block on Campbell Ave. Copy was now being linotyped in Los Gatos and printed on a power press. Eventually, however, the Knappens joined the enterprise by adding a lion-type machine which modernized the plant. Upon the death in 1937 of Harry Smith, who had become one of the most popular and esteemed citizens of Campbell, Edna Smith, his wife, faithfully continued publication until the arrival earlier this year of the present owners.

The policy of the CAMPBELL PRESS has always been to supplement the work of the schools and the churches in working for a progressive, healthy and law-abiding community.

TIRE RATIONING

If you are an automobile owner in search of tires, here is one thing to keep your eye on. The tire industry is pulling all sorts of wires back-stage to lift export restrictions.

At present they are permitted to export 400,000 truck tires and 100,000 passenger tires during the last quarter of this year. They would like to export a lot more.
In the first place, they don't have to worry about OPA ceiling prices when selling abroad. Secondly, they can build up their postwar markets by getting in on the ground floor.

So they would rather sell more tires abroad. But if they do, they sell less tires at home. And today a tire certificate issued to a person desiring to buy a tire is nothing more than a hunting license.
He can go out and hunt for a tire.
If he's lucky enough to find one,
his certificate entitles him to buy it.

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE

When the House foreign affairs committee heard testimony on the Randolph bill to create a department of peace, the star witness was a 64-year-old former mule-driver from Morgantown, W. Va.

Chairman Sol Bloom and members of his committee listened with rapt attention as Raymond M. Davis read a 16-page statement on why the United States should take the lead in establishing a new cabinet post to spread the gospel of peace throughout the world.

After he finished, white-thatched GOP Rep. Charles Eaton of New Jersey declared:

"Mr. Davis, you may be unschooled, as you tell the committee, but you certainly are not uneducated. That is one of the finest documents I have ever listened to."

World Peace is not just a hobby with the West Virginia coal man, though he describes it as such. It is a burning ideal. A self-made business man who now operates two coal mines employing more than 500 workers, Davis has made many speeches at his own expense throughout the country urging a government department of peace.
He also has written a proposed constitution for the United Nations that has attracted wide attention.

The State department thought well enough of his ideas to invite him to the San Francisco conference as an observer.

Rep. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, freely admits that Davis was the chief spark plug behind his peace resolution.

"When I was looking at the rear end of a mule all day in West Virginia coal mines," says Davis,
"I never thought that one day I'd be instrumental in having such an important piece of legislation introduced in Congress."

Note—The second initial of Davis' name stands for "Moses". Perhaps what we need are more plain, garden-variety
"Moses" of the Davis type, instead of striped-pants diplomats, to lead us out of the international wilderness.

BOWLES HOLDS INFLATION FLOOD

OPA Administrator Chester
Bowles is one of the most abused men in Washington. Everyone is buggering him. Congressmen demand that their constituents increase the price of this or that.
Farm groups want to raise the price of milk or cattle. Business groups want to abolish all ceiling prices.

Perhaps the common man doesn't appreciate it, but here are some things which will happen if Chester Bowles loses his battle to stop the inflation flood:

1. Every person putting his money in life insurance does so with the idea of getting his money back—100 cents on the dollar. But if there is inflation, the insurance dollar will be worth 75 cents, 50 cents, or even 30 cents.

2. Every person on a retired pension, whether a railroad employee, a college, a school or a big corporation employee, will see his income shrink if there is inflation.

3. Every widow living on money left by her husband will see that income shrivel.

held Sunday evening, Dec. 9 at 7:30 at the Methodist church.
Chosen to inaugurate the series is Dr. Buell Gordon Gallagher, professor of Christian Ethics at the Pacific School of Religion, who will speak on the subject, "One World or None."

Dr. Gallagher, who has had experience in several fields, including the Christian ministry, education, economics and race, was for ten years president of Talladega College in Alabama, one of the few accredited colleges for Negroes. In recognition of his work he bears the distinction of being one of three men awarded honorary degrees from Oberlin College in 1942, the other two being Trace Strong, president of the International Y. M. C. A., and the late Wendell Wilkie. At present he is completing two books, one for Harpers and one for the Missionary Education Movement.

4. Every school teacher will have a real difficulty having her salary move up when the value of the dollar moves down.

5. Every civil servant, whether working for city, state or federal government, will be in the same boat as the teachers.

6. Every college endowment, every charity or other enterprise with fixed invested capital stands ready to have its investment evaporate with inflation.

Spanish Dancers Perform Monday

Luisa Triana

Antonio Triana, Spain's greatest dancer, with Luisa Triana, Lola Montes and company of dancers and singers, appear for the San Jose Concert Series next Monday night, Dec. 3, in an exciting and brilliant program of Spanish, Latin-American and Gypsy dances, dazzlingly costumed. Dances of Andalusia, Sevilla, Cordoba, Venezuela, Mexico, Guatemala, Peru, Brazil and Argentina will be seen.

The 12-year-old Luisa Triana is a sensation, her little feet having the speed of machine gun fire. Triana himself, who has toured all over Europe, South America and the United States, has a faultless and brilliant technique. He has great humor, style and amazing pantomime, his "Zajateado" never failing to "stop the show cold", according to the New York Times.

Lola Montes, third star of the company, was discovered by Triana in Mexico City, star of the famous Bellas Artes.

Tickets for the Spanish Dance Fiesta are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose Auditorium.

Ed Ferguson, county treasurer, and John MacDonald, Woodrow Wilson High school musical instructor, both members of the San Jose Kiwanis club, presented a musical program at Tuesday's regular Kiwanis luncheon, with Guy Farley as chairman. Guests at the meeting were Dale La Mar of the Campbell Union High school; Dr. William Harder, Los Gatos; G. A. Carver, Seattle; and M. Kennedy Bliss, San Francisco.

Next week Bill Weeks will act as chairman and the Campbell High school choir will sing.

The Woman's Guild of the Campbell Congregational church will hold its annual meeting and election of officers Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 7, at 2, in the parlors of the church. Group 1 will be hostess to the social hour.

Children To Have Festival

Looming brightly on the Christmas calendar for the youngsters of the valley is the Children's Annual Christmas Festival sponsored by the San Jose Garden Forum to be held in the Montgomery Theater in the Civic Auditorium at 2 p. m. Dec. 8. It will be the Children's Victory Christmas and Peace Festival and elaborate plans for their entertainment and happiness are being completed. A large brilliantly lighted Christmas tree will be a feature and a small gift will be presented to each of the children attending as well as the hundred or more youngsters who are participating in the program.

The program will open with an invocation by Dr. Mark Rifenbark, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church in San Jose. Christmas carols will be sung by a score of little girls from Trinity church junior choir. Following which the curtain will go up on 80 white robed children surrounding a column topped with a glistening white world over which hovers the dove of peace.

Doris Andreuccetti who is directing the victory ballet has been rehearsing her pupils daily for weeks in the brilliant and colorful pageant of costumed national dances which will conclude the program. Several groups of underprivileged children will be special guests of the occasion. A few sets are still available and may be secured at the Sherman and Clay and the Ferguson Music Houses in San Jose. Children under 12 must be accompanied by adults. Information may be had by calling Ballard 8693, Ballard 2696M, and Columbia 3489J, or writing P. O. Box 1147, San Jose.

The Woman's Guild of the Campbell Congregational church will hold its annual Christmas bazaar in the parlors of the church next Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 4, from 1 to 5. Groups 1, 2 and 3 will each have a table displaying handmade household articles and novelties for sale and there will be a general table of homemade food and candy. The Sigma Sigma group will serve tea beginning at 2 o'clock, and the proceeds from the tea will be used for the piano fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murdock entertained on Thanksgiving Day with a family dinner which included members of both families.

"Outward Bound" is the selection of the San Jose State College for its 27th annual Christmas show in the Morris Dailey Auditorium on the campus Dec. 6 and 7 at 8:30 p. m. The play, written by Sutton Vane, presents the author's theory on the merits earned in life and their application to judgment and justice after life.

Milk Bottles Still Missing

Although hundreds of thousands of mislaid milk bottles were recovered through a campaign launched by the Pacific Coast Dairy industry last spring, the shortage of glass containers now is greater than ever before.

As a result of the continuing shortage, which now has reached critical proportions, heads of the dairy industry announced the campaign will be renewed actively in the three Pacific Coast states.

More than 10,000,000 milk bottles are missing in California, Washington, and Oregon, and unless a sizeable percentage of this total is recovered, thousands of families will lack for milk this winter, the dairymen warn. The glass container industry has stepped up production of milk containers to the utmost, but the output is insufficient to relieve the critical situation without assistance from the public.

The increasing shortage is attributed partially to the return to civilian life of tens of thousands of troops from overseas. These men have been receiving powdered milk in the field and are hungry for fresh milk. The additional drain they have placed upon the already inadequate supply of containers is largely responsible for the present critical situation, according to the dairy chiefs.

Milk bottles are the property of the dairies and retention of them is unlawful, the dairymen point out. They are urging all housewives to search storerooms, attics, garages, yards and all other places where bottles may have been mislaid and to turn them over immediately to their grocers or milk deliverymen.

Being felicitated on the arrival of a son are Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Roberts (Emily Bohnett) of Aptos. The baby, born Sunday at O'Connor Sanitarium, has been named Paul Calvin Roberts. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bohnett of Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts of Richmond. The new arrival has a sister, Kathryn Ellen.

Vet Hospitals Need Librarians

Librarians will be interested in the opportunities offered by the Federal Government for positions in Veterans Administration hospitals throughout the country and in government agencies in the nation's capital. Salaries are $2320 a year.

In Veterans Administration hospitals, librarians work closely with patients, stimulating their interest in general reading, advising them what to read, and encouraging and guiding club activities. In the libraries of Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., greater emphasis is placed upon library techniques and methods than upon personal service.

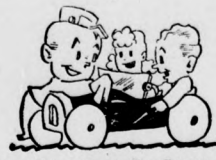

To qualify for these war service positions, applicants must have had three years of appropriate experience or 27 semester hours in library science, or a combination of experience and education. Applicants will be given a written test. There are no age requirements.

Positions as Library Assistant ($2100) may also be filled from the list of eligibles resulting from this examination.

This examination has been opened to the general public because a sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among veterans entitled to have examinations reopened. All qualified persons are invited to apply. No closing date has been set for receipt of applications.

The new librarian announcement (No. 409) and application forms may be obtained from first- and second-class postoffices, from Civil Service Regional offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications should be sent to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

A letter received by Mrs. Flora Raab from Mrs. Alice Reynolds, who accompanied her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Skillman, on a trip to Florida, reports a pleasant journey, fine weather and splendid scenery. They are now comfortably settled in St. Petersburg, enjoying the entertainment provided for tourists and the balmy weather.

Methodist Women To Have Bazaar Vets To Have Preference

One of the important social events of the pre-Christmas season is the annual bazaar of the Campbell Methodist church, which will be held on Friday, Dec. 7, from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock, in the church parlors.

The theme this year will be "Christmas Around the World", with each booth representing a different country. The candy booth will be French, the fancy work will be an Oriental bazaar, the baby booth will be strictly American, the farm produce will be a Mexican street fair, the white elephant booth will be India, while the tea will be English. The Women's Service Club will sponsor a booth representing the Scandinavian countries.

The Omega Circle will serve a dinner at the Community hall, and tickets must be secured in advance from Mrs. Earl Buck, Campbell 2132, or Mrs. Virginia Howard, Campbell 3586, or other members of that Circle.

Friends here have received word of the death of Mrs. Laura Schulte Allen at Los Angeles on Nov. 10, the result of a heart attack. Mrs. Allen was a sister of Mrs. Emma Dalvit and Miss Anne Schulte, both of whom preceded her in death.

These three sisters lived in Campbell for many years on the Dalvit ranch on South Winchester Road, and had many friends and acquaintances here.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walsh spent the Thanksgiving holidays with friends in Modesto.

Veterans of World War II will be given first preference to train for peace-time careers in the merchant marine, is was announced today by Lieutenant (jg) F. H. Walsh, Pacific district enrolling officer for the U. S. Maritime Service at San Francisco.

Effective immediately honorably discharged veterans of the armed forces may qualify for deck, engine or steward department training leading to certification for positions aboard merchant ships.

The new directive eliminates the enrollment of men (non-veterans) between the ages of 17 through 25. However, men between 26 and 31 years of age, regardless of previous military experience, may qualify for enrollment to supplement quotas unfilled by veterans.

Lieutenant Walsh stated also that youths, 16, who could meet minimum physical requirements of 64 inches in height and 130 pounds in weight would also be considered for Maritime Service at this time.

Applicants should apply to the enrolling office located at 1000 Geary St., San Francisco, Calif.

The Campbell Union Grammar school will present a pageant, entitled "The Christmas Story", on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 20 and 21, at 8 p. m., in the school auditorium. The admission price, including tax will be 25 cents and the proceeds will be used for the auditorium ventilating system fund.

OPA Tries To Restore Ceilings

Both the western regional office of the OPA and the San Francisco district office took quick action in an effort to present facts to Washington that would bring about an immediate restoration of citrus fruit ceilings.

Scores of complaints poured into the San Francisco district OPA office and price control boards, from housewives and consumers generally in vehement protest at the sudden increase, orange prices being under particular attack.

Ben C. Duniway, regional administrator for the OPA, sent a wire to all district executives in the region to make an immediate price check as the basis for a report to the national headquarters.

Kenneth R. Hammaker, director of the San Francisco district office of OPA declared he was making an immediate protest to Washington, and urging that ceilings be restored at once.

Hitherto, oranges have been sold to the consumer by the pound, with 5 pounds selling for 47 cents irrespective of size, and a 70-pound box selling for $4.30 at the point of shipment.

By the new price lists of the Fruit Growers Exchange, the fruit is priced according to size, with large sizes, having from 126 to 176 per box, selling for $7.25 at point of shipment, and smaller ones, with 344 to the box, selling at $4.75, with intermediate sizes in proportion.

Investigation showed that yesterday prices to the retail trade ranged from $5.55 for the 344's to $8.05 for the larger sizes.

Five pounds at retail were generally selling at 80 cents, a 70.2% increase over the previous 47 cent price.

T/s Winfield Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Archibald, Union Ave., received his honorable discharge from the Army Nov. 25 and is at present in Campbell with his wife, the former Helen Roderick, and small daughter. He entered the Air Corps in 1941, and received his training at Jefferson Barracks in Missouri. Special administrative work followed in Texas, Kansas and California. A graduate of the Campbell High School and Heald's College in San Jose, Archibald was employed at the Bank of America in San Luis Obispo before entering the service.

Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State, is expressing concern over voting privileges for returning veterans of World War II.

Jordan explained that during the war those in the armed services claimed certain localities as their legal residence but upon return to civilian life will reside elsewhere.

It will be necessary for these veterans to personally notify the county clerk, or registrar of voters, of change of address, or face loss of voting privileges.

Surplus Property Act To Be Amended For Vets

In an effort to expedite the sale of surplus materials to war veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars have thrown the full weight of its nation-wide membership behind a bill now before Congress to amend the Surplus Property Act and make it possible for veterans to purchase what they want without delay.

Under the terms of the proposed amendment, according to Richard H. Newhall, California Department Commander of the VFW, an honorably discharged war veteran would be permitted to purchase materials in business or for personal or family use up to $25,000. The Act, as now written, prohibits a veteran from purchases in excess of $2500.

Newhall said he had been advised by Omar B. Ketchum, National Legislative representative of the VFW in Washington, that the proposed amendment, if enacted, would eliminate the Smaller War Plants Corporation as an intermediary agent for the veteran and would permit him to go direct to where surplus property is being sold and exercise his veteran preference by showing his honorable discharge.

The California VFW chief revealed that complaints from war veterans that they are unable to purchase surplus war materials are increasing daily. Newhall expressed the belief that the proposed amendment to the Surplus Property Act would do much to expedite the sale of automobiles, trucks, tractors and other surplus property items which are eagerly sought by veterans.

Plans Made For Brotherhood Week

An outstanding citizen of each Western State will be selected to serve as his State's chairman for American Brotherhood Week, sponsored February 17-24, 1946, by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, it was announced today by Dr. U. S. Mitchell of San Francisco, vice-president and western executive director of the National Conference.

A larger number of eminent leaders of the West will be invited to membership on the national board of governors for the week's observance, Dr. Mitchell said. The board's membership already includes John Foster Dulles, Solomon Guggenheim, Charles E. Hughes Jr., Albert D. Lasker, Judge Samuel Seabury, Myron C. Taylor, and other equally prominent Americans.

David O. Selznick, Basil O'Connor and Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken are national co-chairmen of American Brotherhood Week, and volunteer organizing chairmen will be sought to lead the observance in each county and community in the United States. Dr. Ludd H. Spivey, president of Florida Southern College, has been appointed executive director.

Brotherhood Week was initiated 13 years ago by Newton D. Baker, who with Charles Evans Hughes and S. Parkes Cadman founded the National Conference of Christians and Jews in 1928. Theme for the 1946 observance will be: "In Peace as in War—Teamwork."

Edward R. Stettinius Jr., Gen. Mark Clark, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, William Green and Phillip

Murray are among the national leaders who have already endorsed American Brotherhood Week.

"The purposes of the United Nations Charter, to which the United States is pledged," says Mr. Stettinius, "can be achieved only by applying to the problems of peace, both among nations and within our own country, the kind of teamwork which made victory possible in war."

General Clark states, "Teamwork is the key to accomplishment for men of any occupation, any creed, or any race. 'In Peace as in War—Teamwork' is a fitting slogan for Brotherhood Week in the United States. The combined efforts of the American people and the people of allied nations which gave us victory must also be made to insure us peace."

"I wish every success in connection with the next annual observance of Brotherhood Week," says General Wainwright. "The slogan, 'In Peace as in War—Teamwork' should represent the American way of living."

Lieut. Writes Of Japan

Lt. Howard Stackpole, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stackpole, San Jose, who has many Campbell friends, has written his parents some interesting letters concerning life in Japan, where he is serving at Wakayama in a message center.

After leaving California in 1943, the young lieutenant was stationed in Pennsylvania and New York before sailing aboard the "John Lykes" through the Panama Canal to New Caledonia and the New Hebrides. From these bases he made many trips to nearby islands and then sailed aboard the "Cape Claire" for the Philippine Islands, where he was stationed for many months before the Japanese surrender. Now in Japan, one of his recent letters dated Nov. 5, tells of the strange customs in that country.

"Dear Mom and Dad:

"The last week has been for me as full of interest as any six months I've spent overseas. Our L. S. T. drove on to the beach on the 29th, about noon, and the huge front doors were swung open, the ramp was let down, a floating pier was brought into place to span the water between ship and shore, and soon trucks were driving off. By midnight all vehicles and most of the men were on the road for Koebe. This was from Wakayama.

"We reached Koebe in the wee hours of the morning. Our area (for the whole battalion) was a school once used to train the merchant marines of one of the large Japanese shipping companies. It was for the most part without heat, and consequently was quite cold at night. When I left, though, heat was being installed. During the day we settled ourselves, and that night one of my friends of Co. C invited me out to the home of a friend. He had been in Japan several weeks, being in the forward echelon of the battalion which landed at Wakayama Sept. 25. He had consequently had time to make a few acquaintances among the Japanese.

"We walked over to the house and entered a very small vestibule where we were met by the mother, her older daughter, young son, and young daughter. We removed our shoes with much giggling and smiling on their part, and entered the house proper. What would correspond to our living room was upstairs, which we ascended immediately. They were tiny stairs, reminding me somehow of the stairways to the upper compartments of the modern Pullman sleepers. We were seated on mats on the floor around a low table in the center of the room, and soon tea was served with a bowl of roasted soy-beans. The conversation during the evening was really amusing, since they knew no English, and we, no Japanese for extended conversations. Jimmy, the fellow I went with, had picked up a few words and phrases in Japanese, and they a few of English. But to make myself understood it was necessary to take an English-Japanese dictionary and point out the words. Then they would carefully pronounce a word or two of Japanese, and we would look that up in the Japanese-English dictionary, where the words are listed into what is called the Hepburn spelling, which gives the sounds in English. In the couple of hours we were there, none of us said much, but we had a delightful evening.

"The next night we went again, and the same procedure was repeated. The elder daughter had invited over a girl friend that night, and both bowed a couple of times and exchanged greetings in the formal Japanese manner. On leaving they exchanged the same politeness or courtesy.

"The next day I left Koebe for Wakayama. So in my next letter I shall tell you about the rest of my experience and bring you up to date."

Tony Raffanti and Gene Hodges, appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to plan Christmas decorations, are busy working on the project.

"Blossom Time" In San Francisco

Lovers of fine music, lovers of bright comedy, lovers of traditional good theater, and just lovers in general, will welcome the 1945-46 revival of the nation's favorite operetta "Blossom Time" which is the attraction at the Curran Theater, San Francisco.

This tender and poignant operetta based on the life of Franz Schubert was first produced in Vienna in 1914, under the title of "Drei Madel Haus" and soon won international popularity by virtue of its romantic plot and its exquisite melodies adapted by B. Herte from Franz Schubert's own immortal music. By the early 1920's it surpassed even "The Merry Widow" in popularity and its fame soon became international. London first saw it under the title of "Lilac Time," and in 1921 it opened at the Ambassador Theater, New York, under the title of "Blossom Time."

For the American production the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Schubert had engaged Sigmund Romberg to adapt the music and the late Dorothy Donnelly to prepare the book. The premier was greeted with much enthusiasm, and today, after almost a quarter of a century, "Blossom Time" is still continuing to make history in the American theater.

In presenting the 1945-46 revival of the beloved masterpiece, the Messrs. Schubert are featuring some of the outstanding artists in the operetta field, among them being Edmund Dorsay, Ruth Gillette, Tom Barry, Zella Russell, Harry K. Morton, Marian Stevens, Frank Farrell and Ann Lay. The orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. Harry Archer.

Frank Cutting's art class enjoyed a day of painting and a picnic lunch at Alum Rock Park earlier this month.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sluder spent Thanksgiving Day in San Jose with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ostermier.

State Chamber of Commerce to Meet

Industrial and agricultural leaders of California's Central Coast area will participate in a State-wide study of manpower, transportation, travel-recreation, taxation and other situations and problems at the first post-war annual meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles, Nov. 29 and 30. Frank M. Shay, regional vice-president of the State Chamber, outlined meeting plans.

"This will be the first annual meeting of the State Chamber since 1942," Shay stated. "The gathering of directors, committeemen and members will provide not only a forum for discussion of post-war problems confronting California, but also a means of organizing a Statewide action program for California development. Outstanding business, industrial and agricultural leaders from all parts of the State will attend and participate."

Central Coast area activities and personnel have prominent parts in the two-day program. Harrison S. Robinson, Oakland, president of the State Chamber, will conduct the general sessions. Members of the board of directors from this area are H. D. Collier, Alfred W. Eames, Sidney M. Ehrman, Adrien J. Falk, R. B. Hale, Frederick J. Koster, A. C. Mattei, A. T. Mercier, Harry A. Mitchell, Carl F. Wente and J. D. Zellerbach, San Francisco; Alfred J. Lundberg and Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland; Dr. Robert Gordon Sproule, University of California.

Harry A. Mitchell, president Sacramento Northern Railway, Statewide chairman, will preside at highway section sessions, and speakers on his program include A. J. Lundberg, president Key System; H. J. Brunner, San Francisco, president American Automobile Association; Irving H. Kahn, San Francisco, ex-president California State Auto Association.

Sidney M. Ehrman, Statewide taxation committee chairman, will conduct the taxation sessions at the Los Angeles meeting, and speakers will include Prof. Malcolm Davisson, Berkeley, tax consultant, League of California Cities, and W. B. Sanders, San Francisco, tax adviser, Crown-Zellerbach Corporation.

State officials are considering a request for $443,000 in State funds to be used for improvements to the Santa Clara County fair grounds on Monterey road, according to late reports. In the past the State has required the county to match funds obtained from the State but no final decision is expected on the request at this time.

The Santa Clara County request would provide for a portion of the general post-war building program submitted by the Fair Association to the Board of Supervisors last year. The total contemplated at that time was $1,225,500.

today ... The Daylights

pacemakers for trains to come

Every day Southern Pacific's luxurious streamlined Daylights join San Francisco with Los Angeles in a glorious daylight trip. One Daylight streaks along the California coast, over the Santa Lucia Mountains and along the blue Pacific Ocean shore for more than a hundred miles. Another Daylight travels over the rugged Tehachapi Mountains and through the great San Joaquin Valley.

The Daylights are among the most popular trains in America and the most beautiful trains in the world.

Aboard these luxurious red and orange streamliners you enjoy enormous "showcase" windows five feet wide, soft foam rubber seats, fluorescent lighting, a low-voiced public address system to announce station stops and points of interest, baggage elevators, complete air-conditioning, smooth gliding motion thanks to ingenious tight-lock couplings between the cars.

Modern ideas such as those tested in years of daily service on Southern Pacific's Daylights, the Lark, the City of San Francisco and the Sunbeams, gave us a head start in designing the trains to come.

tomorrow ... Southern Pacific is planning more streamliners, and will have them on our four major routes as fast as conditions permit. These new trains will be the finest the world has seen. Watch for the new Southern Pacific streamliners. Then it will be more exciting than ever to "try the train."

You'll feel like singing ...

IT'S "GOOD, GOOD, GOOD"

Here is a smart, new necessity for your home. It is this trim, slim, chromium-grilled electric heater for the bathroom. A snap of the switch and it pours forth a flow of radiant sunny heat. Step out of a bath and stand by this full-length electric heater and you become wrapped in warmth from head to foot. These new electric heaters are easily installed in the wall—safe, out-of-the-way and are sturdily built for a lifetime of service.

For any hard-to-heat room—a den, a basement room or workshop—you can now buy a modern quick-acting electric heater that plugs into a wall outlet and operates with a money-saving thermostat heat control. These electric heaters put forth abundant heat in a few minutes.

Here is another wall-mount electric heater that is growing in popularity for bedrooms, bedrooms and dens, too. It is small in size but big in heat output and circulates and radiates heat in a hurry. And it will last-out the life of any home.

Come in and look over these modern electric heaters today.

250 Attend Ada Rebekah

Ada Rebekah lodge convened Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, with 250 members and visitors to welcome Ethel Louderbach, president of the Rebekah Assembly.

The hall was beautifully decorated with redwood and cotoneaster boughs to depict a forest to represent a camp site of a Roman band.

Distinguished guests were the president of the Rebekah Assembly; Rena Trimble, past president of the Rebekah Assembly; Chas. Snyder, past grand master and trustee of the Children's Home; Bella Collins, district president of District No. 3; Leona Beecher, district deputy president of District No. 24; Roy Heald, district deputy grand master of District No. 42; and Ruth Bettinger, president of the Theta Rho Assembly.

Ethel Louderbach, president of the Rebekah Assembly, gave a very inspiring talk on the physiotherapy wing at Yountville.

Following the lodge meeting a very delightful program was presented by Josephine Gray, chairman, as follows: Marion Hoyt rendering several accordion numbers; Rena Trimble, P. P. R. A., responded with a few words; Rev. Clarence Baldwin, several vocal selections, accompanied by Neva Chamberlin; Chas. Snyder, P. G. M. gave a few words; Mr. and Mrs. Don Woods, in charge of a group of folk dancers entertained with dances of the different countries; Bella Collins, Leona Beecher and Roy Heald, each responded with a few remarks. The officers dressed as gypsies chose the president of the Rebekah Assembly as their queen, using the entwined hearts as a motif of the presentation.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were enjoyed.

The next regular meeting will be Dec. 4, and election of officers will be held. Committee for the evening consists of Clara Baldwin, Evelyn Hereford, Freda Bargas, Anna Bachman, and Catherine Cole.

Dr. Reinhardt To Lecture

The San Jose Garden Forum is announcing a course of ten timely lectures to be given by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president emerita of Mills College, the first of the year. They will be presented in the Little Theater at San Jose State College on the first ten Saturdays of the New Year, starting at 2 p. m. on Jan. 5, and each succeeding Saturday until March 9, inclusive. Dr. Reinhardt was consultant to the U. S. State Department at the San Francisco Conference. She served for years as president of the National Association of University Women and has taken a leading part in the affairs of the International Association. Dr. Reinhardt also founded the Institute of International Relations held at Mills College each summer. She has traveled extensively and has specialized in the study of the various governments and characteristics of their people.

She is a brilliant and forceful speaker and has appeared in San Jose on several occasions during the past year; having given the baccalaureate sermon for San Jose State College in June and was guest speaker for the San Jose Federation of Church Women, and more recently was the speaker for the fifth anniversary for the San Jose Garden Forum at their Peace Festival on Nov. 3. Her lecture will be largely attended by those who wish to keep abreast of current events in international affairs. Dr. Reinhardt's series of talks will furnish a sound background for the understanding of the potent international problems of the present day which mean so much for all of us. A strong civic backing has been secured for the coming lectures.

The series will be announced later and course tickets may be secured or individual lectures attended at a very reasonable price by those desiring to attend. Information may be secured by telephoning Ballard 8693, or writing in care of P. O. Box 1147, San Jose.

"Sons of the Morning" by Otto Schrag.

David Horne and his friend Bill return from combat to the small town they left. Their bitterness is not understood by their friends. Worrying about no market for the local tobacco crop seems trivial when compared to frequent memories of suffering on the battle field.

David had convalesced in a small French village and was attracted to Jacqueline. She was one who did not look away when the crutches and remainder of a leg were noticed. Her simple remark of "Where did you get it soldier?" bespoke of a strength appealing to David. After he returned to the States, Jacqueline followed him to be married.

Otto Schrag is a new author, having come to this country after many days of hiding from the Gestapo. His knowledge of our acceptance of foreigners is therefore first hand.

There are many good parts to show the patience needed in talking to some of the returning men. They also indicate the wisdom of revitalizing some thoughts along the lines of these men. If at the end the solution of Bill's and David's problems appears too simple, what has gone before is the real story.

Sgt. Virgil A. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Williamson, 12 Sunnyvale Ave., is a civilian now, following his discharge at McClellan Field after 3½ years of service with the Army Air Forces. Twenty-two months of this was overseas duty in the European theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Budd Levenberg and family spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Fresno with Mrs. Levenberg's mother, Mrs. C. Arnibaldi.

Cuban Review To Play

"A Night in Havana", the Cuban Revue which is the second of the Pan-American revues to be seen in San Jose this season, comes to the Civic Auditorium on Dec. 6.

The first of this series of Pan-American revues, the Mexico City Tipica Revue, was presented last month at the Auditorium and scored such a success that those who saw it have been inquiring ever since when the second of the series would come to San Jose.

The Cuban Revue is as typical of Cuba in its way as the Mexico City Revue was of the country to the south. Some of the best talent in Cuba has been assembled for the revue, with typical songs and dances of the island. Featured also on the show is a colorful, rhythmic Cuban orchestra.

Seats for "A Night in Havana" are on sale at the west box office of the Civic Auditorium. The box office will be open from 10 to 5 each day. Mail orders may be sent at any time.

"You Came Along", coming to the Campbell Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is an unusual picture in that it switches suddenly from a fast-moving comedy by-play to a dramatic field. It's a complete change of pace, yet the changeover is accomplished with intelligence and effectiveness.

The story, written by Robert Smith, deals with a returned aviator, incurably ill, his pals, and of course the girl he meets. His flier friends are slap-happy, care-free and girl crazy and that's where the comedy comes in. His girl is brave and characterful, willing to face tragedy.

Robert Cummings plays the part of the aviator and a newcomer, Elizabeth Scott, is introduced to movie goers as the girl who marries him. She is interesting and attractive, not in the usual pretty-pretty Hollywood way. She operates under one of those low-pitched voices, catalogued as "tawny" if this is possible in describing a speaking voice. Under John Farrow's direction, she is made to underplay. Although Miss Scott requires a greater familiarity with the screen as a medium, the end result of her first job is much in her favor.

The picture takes its name from the popular song "You Came Along Out of Nowhere".

Mrs. Lillian Voge, Campbell librarian, who was taken to a hospital in Oakland with pneumonia, is much better and is recuperating at the home of her son, Dr. Hervey Voge and his family, in Berkeley.
